The President's Corner

Hello! We are delighted to see those who have joined us tonight.

Our speaker, Larry Chestnut, comes to us with experience as a docent at PAFA, graphic and freelance artist, art teacher, juror and painting demonstrator. His method of painting is called "premier coup". This means that the paintings are inspired by scenes directly in front of the painter and completed without revisions. This style combines with plein air painting to achieve spontaneity. Please check out his work on larrychestnut.com or Larry Chestnut artist. His work is varied and impressive.

We are in need of chairpersons for Trips (you will have a helper) and Publicity (you can work from home). Both jobs are not too time consuming and a good way to give back to BMAL.

Remember, membership is a push this year.....who can you invite to such a great group?

Remember, inform us of your art shows, art sales, and general art event information. We will let everyone know.

TONIGHT'S SPEAKER

Larry Chestnut has been painting, teaching and selling his work for nearly 30 years. His subjects range from people, to old cars and their parts, to architecture and landscapes. He has received many awards for his art which is in private and corporate collections in the US and Overseas.

Chairpersons Needed

Trips • Choose destinations of interest, set a date, make arrangements for meeting or car pooling.

Publicity • Submit meeting notices and pictures about special BMAL events to local papers. All references, due dates, and contact info will be provided to you.

New Year - NEW ART
