The President's Corner

Hi Everyone!

Isn't tonight a spectacular display of talent? We are delighted to have all our participants sharing their work. All of you who have come out to support our artists makes the night special. Welcome all visitors!

You will notice that we have two levels of display for our paintings. No matter what your level of experience or expertise, you are encouraged to exhibit. Our photography section is also very exciting! We know everyone in our show tonight is a winning artist! Many thanks to Susan Margraff for overseeing our Members' Show and to all the members who worked on her committee.

Our Hospitality members are to be thanked for displaying the snacks, which were generously provided this month by the members.

Please know that we have an exciting season of speakers, shows, and trips ahead of us this year. When you join, check out all the opportunities to display your work in the various local venues in our brochure. You will see the variety in the programs for 2016-17.

The BMAL Board members ask you to become involved on any committee that is of interest to you. Have ideas for the good of the group? Just let us know!

Be sure to say hello to someone you do not know....You will find some friendly people here!

FALL SKETCHING TIPS

- Create the sketchbook habit. Your camera cannot record how you feel about a subject.
- The camera records too much. Your sketch records only what is important to you.
- Know your intent. What do you want to gain from this drawing? What do you want to say with the drawing?

Our sincere condolences to Carol Walker on the recent loss of her husband.

To Give is to Receive

We will once again take holiday gifts to Christ's Home for Children. If you wish to participate, please bring your unwrapped gifts to the November meeting.

Our November Speaker is Not to be Missed

Anthony Thompson, a well known painter of local landscapes, contemporary coastal scenes and maritime subjects, will be our speaker.

*Painting is a never-ending process of challenges and learning.
Daniel Greene, artist*

Please continue to email photos of your work to Lynne Whitsel for display on our website.
